UPWARD MOVE AT CLOSE

Gains Are Added Generally Over Previous Session—Primary Returns Cause Some Apprehension to Traders on the Exchange.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, August 17.—Irregularity was the dominant note of the stock market today, the list receding and advancing half a dozen times during the early session and for the most part within a very narrow range. In the later trading, however, the market cleared a more direct upward course and added very generally to its gains of the previous day.

Yesterday's primary returns from the Pacific coast, developments in New York state and other parts of the country, it is apprehended, will increase the existing storm of controversy and perhaps be followed by no little uncertainty.

The only noteworthy railroad return issued today was that of the Baltimore & Ohio road for July, in which an increase of $445,000 in gross earnings was reversed to a loss of $154,000 in net.

The entire bond list was steady, with an advance in United States 4s of 1/4 per cent on call. Total sales, par value aggregated $2,059,000.

Total sales for the day 612,700 shares including: Sugar 400; Tobacco, 300; A. C. L. 100; C. & O. 6,000; L. & N. 200; N. & W. 1,600; Reading 112,400; Sloss 400; Southern Railway 4500; pfd. 200; U. P. 113,000; U. S. Steel, 128,500; V. C. C. 33,000.

Mrs. J. B. Dodd, Who Is Fostering Fathers' Day In Washington State

Fathers will at last get some consideration. Mrs. J. B. Dodd, a Washington state society woman, is bending all her energies toward making the third Sunday of June a day on which the poor old daddies will be honored throughout the country, if not the whole world. On the next day set aside for father in Spokane, Wash., everybody in that city will be seen wearing a rose in his buttonhole or on her breast. In all churches ministers will use that day as a text for their sermons.

Hot Air.
The sirocco blows hot from the highlands of north Africa and falls on the Mediterranean as far as Malta. The salano jumps like a windy fireball from the heat of the Sahara desert and lands flatfooted in Spain. The barometer blows hot Sahara dust far into the Atlantic and gives nosebleed and makes skin and lips parch and crack, while furniture and ship timbers groan and crack and scream in an agony of droughty despair. The khammin blows Sahara's ancient dust into Egyptian eyes every fifty days. The pamperos periodically blow down into Buenos Aires out of the unexplored desert highlands of Brazil, and the blowing causes suicides and murders to be more common and wounds to break out afresh, with a heavy death rate. Pamperos pass away in a second, leaving the air fine—Exchange.

The Bulldog.
The bulldog, unlike the majority of dogs, very seldom barks. In fact, owing to the construction of his throat his attempts at barking are more like a burlesque of the real thing. He wades into a fight without any vocal warning, and the only sound he emits is his heavy breathing. His courage is astonishing, and the largeness of his opponent never acts as a deterrent when hostilities are imminent. Still, as he is not a quarrelsome dog, he very rarely indulges in street brawls, and, as he is exceedingly good natured, it takes a lot to rouse him.
The modern bulldog is undoubtedly a different looking animal from his bull-fighting ancestors. The most conspicuous "improvements" introduced by the present day "fancy" are largeness of head, width of chest, heaviness of bone and more typical tail.

Why She Was Pleased.
"Do you mean to tell me that you actually overcame that ancient antipathy of yours for Mrs. Muggsy and called on her this afternoon?" said his wife's husband.
"That's about the size of it," replied her husband's wife.
"And she was glad to see you?"
"There isn't any doubt about it."
"Why do you think that?"
"Well, I had on that old dress I've worn three seasons and a hat that is entitled to a prominent place in some museum for antiquities, while she had on a new gown just from Paris. Oh, yes, I'm sure she was tickled to death, figuratively speaking, when I called!"
—Chicago News.

A Sample of Suggestion.
A popular comedian and playwright was praising the humorous value of suggestions.

"It is funnier to suggest a thing," he said, "than to say it out. Playwrights should remember this. Suggestion, pregnant suggestion, is what makes really funny the little boy's remark to his father:
"Pa, if you help me with my arithmetic lesson tonight I'll tell you where ma hid your trousers."—New York Sun.

The "Best Girl" Habit.
"Why," asked her anxious and excited mother, "do you think he is coming to the point at last?"
"Well," the maiden replied, looking demurely down at the rug, "when he took me in his arms and kissed me last night he said he'd got so used to me he didn't believe he could ever break himself of the habit."

Staggers Skeptics.
That a clean, nice, fragrant cream found like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, cold, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felonies, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try R. 25c at All Drugists.

Combined Summer and Winter Cottage

SPECIAL interest attaches to the "Summer Home" during this heated season and the use to which such a home is put has changed quite considerably from former times. People that "bed the city" for the country for two or three months during the summer are now building their summer homes in such a manner that they can be lived in with comfort during the cold months of the year. The light-constructed and frail summer cottage is fast giving place to the better and more permanently constructed houses.

The design shown can be completed at a cost of $2,000. It has all the advantages of a summer cottage, with a large living-room surrounded on the front and one side by a wide, spacious screened piazza that is also enclosed with glazed windows during the winter months, making a fine sun room. The living-room is opened up well with the piazza by a wide glass or French window and a glazed door in the center. The second floor is of mill construction, showing the beams on the underside. The woodwork throughout is of pine and stained dark Flemish. There is a wide open fireplace constructed of rugged brick. The dining-room on the left connects through a wide opening and the stairway extends up between the dining-room and kitchen, with the basement stairs underneath. At the rear of kitchen is an open screened porch for refrigerator and small servant's bedroom and at rear of dining-room is a second screened porch and toilet-room. The walls are plastered and finished in burlaps, with plate rail extended around over the top of the doors and windows. There is a basement under the entire house, with hot air heater for spring and fall use. The second floor are four good-sized bedrooms with closets, and small rear bedroom and bathroom. The floors in the first story are of maple and the second birch, finished natural. The house has a gambrel roof, low pitched and with dormer windows lighting on the sides and swinging Venetian windows in the front. The whole exterior effect is low and cottage-like and is extremely pleasing. The roofs are stained green and the house is painted white.
